

THE VALLEY GREEN TEAM

Connecting resources to bring healthy and environmentally-sustainable businesses and jobs to the San Fernando Valley region.

The Valley Green Team is a coalition of concerned leaders who share a vision of making the San Fernando Valley the “green” hub of Southern California.

The organization provides the link between the various parties that can make this happen: businesses, educational institutions, governmental entities, and community members.

The Valley Green Team has four key objectives:

Advocate for green business opportunities and jobs in the Valley

Create a blueprint for education and research in support of sustainability efforts

Demonstrate to businesses and the community at large the economic, health, and quality-of-life benefits of sustainability.

Connect business, education, government and community resources to promote collaboration in furthering the mission of sustainability.

Our first goal is to create a website that will connect like-minded people and organizations. The site will be a roadmap for anyone seeking resources to help with their sustainable efforts. The Valley Green Pages is currently under development.

If you have a local business that offers a product or service that relates to sustainable issues, please visit our website and submit your email address. We will contact you as soon as our website is fully functional.

If you are interested in greening your business, or are interested in advocacy efforts to enhance sustainability, our website will also include ideas and links to others who have already been successful, those who are in the midst of their greening process, or those just embarking on the journey.

We welcome your ideas and input.
